

TRUE Before Mother's Friend was introduced.

The older the prospective mother be the more difficult the ordeal through which she must pass before she experiences the glory of the maternal state. This was true before was introduced, but now tangible evidence in the shape of countless mothers of advanced years who have used it with entire success forces us to gladly refute the integrity of this statement.

Old or young, the result is the same. It is simply indispensable during the parturient state, and absolutely invaluable at the crucial time.

For external massage, easy and simple to apply, wonderful in its effect, it surely is a living monument to the truth of that old adage, "What's in a name?" We reply, "simply Mother's Friend." $1.00, at all druggists. Send for book, "Motherhood." It is free. Bradfield Regulator Co., ATLANTA, GA.

PROTECTION FOR O. R. & N. TRAINS

SEMAPHORE SYSTEM OF SIGNALS NOW IN USE.

Section Foremen and Watchmen Are Instructed to See That Trains Do Not Run Closer Together Than 10 Minutes—Is a Measure of Safety That Is Practiced on Most of the Eastern Roads—Is Certain to Prevent Collisions During Rush of Business.

During the rush of business on the O. R. & N. every precaution has been thrown around the operation of trains to insure their safety and quick dispatch.

In addition to inaugurating the semaphore system of handling trains, the section foreman along the lines are instructed to see that trains do not run closer together than the 10-minute limit prescribed by the time-card.

The semaphore system is this: The arm of the station semaphore, regulating the telegraphic train orders, is now always left set for a full stop for every train, all the time, and when a train approaches a station, if it does not have to stop for any other purpose, the engineer calls for signals from the station agent, by giving four short blasts of the whistle, and if the agent has no orders for that train, the arm of the semaphore is lowered to permit the train to pass without a stop. If the agent has orders for the train, he does not lower the semaphore, and the train must stop and receive the orders.

This rule does not apply to Pendleton or La Grande, which are terminals and at which all trains must stop, but to every intermediate station, where trains stop only for orders or to do work.

In this way it is impossible for a train to pass a station without the knowledge of the operator, and thus all possibility of collision or running past orders is prevented.

It is almost as rigid a system as the block system in use on the roads of the Eastern states and is fully as effective in preventing accidents.

The new orders to section foremen and watchmen to look out for trains running together is an additional measure of safety, and is one practiced on most large systems. If the foremen or bridge watchmen see that two trains are closer together than 10 minutes, he has orders to stop the second train and hold it until the full 10 minutes has elapsed, since the preceding train passed.

PENDLETON'S FINEST HOMES

OREGON DAILY JOURNAL WILL PRINT GROUP.

Full Page Collection of Sixteen Finest Homes in the City—Special Umatilla Industrial Edition of the Journal Will Go to Thousands of Eastern Readers—Pendleton Has Some of the Best Homes in the West—Journal's Big Engraving Plant Will Turn Out Excellent Cuts.

One of the most attractive features of the Umatilla county industrial edition of the Oregon Daily Journal, now being prepared by John E. Lathrop, and H. W. Brooks, is to be a large half-tone, showing in one group 16 of the finest residences of Pendleton.

The picture will be a concrete illustration of the metropolitan character of this city. It is believed no town of equal size in the Northwest has so many beautiful homes of modern architecture, evincing prosperity of the people.

Arrangements are made for artistic production of the photos, and the new engraving plant of the Journal will be utilized in turning out carefully made plates from which to print the representative homes.

Bring in Friends' Names.

Many thousand copies of the Journal's Umatilla county special edition, which is to be devoted exclusively to this county, will be sent to actual homeowners in the East. It is desired that, to what extent is possible, these extra copies go to Eastern friends of residents hereabouts.

To that end the Journal representatives ask that the people write out lists of acquaintances in the Middle West and the East, living in rural districts, and either leave them at the East Oregonian office or mail them to Mr. Lathrop, care the East Oregonian. Papers will then be sent to these Eastern people. Names and addresses should be plainly written in every instance.

Orders for extra copies of this Journal edition may be left at this office or placed with the Journal representatives, Mr. Lathrop or Mr. Brooks.

Nebraska Bankers in Session.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 26.—The annual meeting of the Nebraska Bankers' Association opened here today with a good attendance. Various papers and addresses by bankers and financiers of prominence were presented during the day. At tomorrow's session there will be more addresses, reports of the committees, discussion of resolutions and election and installation of officers. The convention will close with a banquet, for which elaborate preparations are being made.

INHERITED SCROFULA

When a child I had a very severe attack of Diphtheria, which came near proving fatal. Upon recovery the glands of the neck were very much enlarged, and after the free use of iodine, the right one was reduced to its normal size, but the left one continued to grow—very slowly at first, until it was about the size of a goose egg, which began to press on the windpipe, causing difficult breathing, and became very painful. An incision was made and a large quantity of pus discharged. The gland was removed, or as much as could with safety be taken out. For ten years I wore a little piece of cloth about an inch long in my neck to keep the place open. During this time I had to have it cut open by the doctor every time I took cold or the opening clogged. In the Spring or early Summer of 1884 I was persuaded by my wife to use S. S. S., which I did, strictly in accordance with directions. I took twenty-six large bottles, and was entirely cured, for I have not suffered since that time.

Only a constitutional remedy can reach an hereditary disease like Scrofula. When the blood is restored to a normal condition and the scrofulous deposits are carried off there is a gradual return to health. S. S. S. is well known as a blood purifier and tonic. It is the only guaranteed, strictly vegetable remedy sold. If you have any signs of Scrofula, write us and our physicians will advise you free.
